Breaking news

Greetings to you.

Following our conversation about the Wesley Hall Site Supervisor post, following all protocols, on 17th August 2026 the Interview Panel prayerfully agreed to offer the job to Jacqueline Walsh on her merits.

The panel was pleased to hear of Jackie's wide range of qualifications that are all relevant to this varied role. She has qualifications in business administration which provides a firm basis on which to develop the role, and additional qualifications relevant to building management and safeguarding. Jackie also comes to us with prior experience working at Wesley Hall, which the interview panel felt will equip Jackie to 'hit the ground running,' reducing how much support and reliance there will be placed upon our Circuit Operations Manager during the transition phase.

Jackie has accepted the offer for which we praise God, and following the usual references and DBS checks started in post on 1st October 2026.

Jackie can be contacted on the usual Wesley Hall email address and phone number.

Thank you for prayers for us to accomplish this task.

Let us pray for Jackie as she takes this new responsibility to serve the Lord in at Wesley Hall.

God bless us all.

With much appreciation.

This is the next Heritage event or service at Lower Chapel - 18th October 3pm to 4 pm - The subject is the Rev Benjamin Mather - Professor of Theology! Why did such a learned man come to the little town of Darwen in the Pennine Moors when the population was probably about 300 or 350 rather uneducated, rough small holders in the main. And what connection did he have with the Mather family whose Richard Mather founded Harvard University?

Some of this will be revealed I hope. And of course there will be some adventures in 18th century singing too - did you know Isaac Watts author of When I survey the wondrous cross - also wrote a hymnbook for children?

David was born in Blackburn, being one of six children of believing parents. At the age of fourteen he committed his life to Christ, and after a short time working in the world of horticulture, he trained to be a pastor, serving in three churches over thirty-eight years, most recently at Inskip on the Fylde.

Now, in days when it may not be easy to be a follower of the Lord Jesus and when many take great pleasure in denouncing Him and try to knock believers off their feet, David's desire is that in his itinerant ministry he can help us to keep on standing as we live for our Lord.
